SOUTH END GROUNDS, BOSTON.

April 14.—Along in the late forenoon rain clouds began to assemble over the local National League park and fore-shadowed some rain, but the local weather man insisted that there would be nothing doing in this respect during the afternoon. HILL RESIGNS AS
AMBASSADOR OF
U.S. TO GERMANY

Taft Accepts Resignation and Washington Wonders Why the Envoy Quit.

NO HINT OF FRICTION.

So Hill's Statement That He Is Following Precedent Is Generally Accepted.

WASHINGTON, April 14.—David

Jayne Hill of Rochester, N. Y., Ambassador of the United States to Germany, has resigned his post. The resignation has been accepted by President Taft.

Hill's Letter to Taft.

Mr. Hill's letter to the President follows: "Washington, April 12, 1911.

"Dear Mr. President: "I have the honor to remind you that as President of your term of office as Secretary of State my readiness to terminate my mission as Ambassador to Germany which your predecessor had intrusted to me. It was your pleasure soon after ward to communicate to me in person your wish that I should continue at that post, and I was very happy, especially in view of the short time I had been in Berlin, to receive this mark of your confidence.

"The half of your administration having already passed, it appears to me that I should express to you my grateful appreciation of the consideration you have shown me, and that I should at this time place my resignation in your hands, to take effect July 1 next, which I now do in order that, if you desire, you may be able to make another appointment to that post.

"It has been a great pleasure to me to serve my country in this honorable and highly responsible office, which I have endeavored to fill to the best of my ability.

"I accept, my dear Mr. President, the assurance of my great esteem and loyal sentiments.

"Your obedient servant, "DAVID J. HILL."

Taft Cordial in Reply.

The President's letter of acceptance reads: "The White House, "Washington, April 13, 1911.

"My dear Ambassador, In acknowledging your letter of the 12th instant, it is with great reluctance that I accept your resignation and relieve you of a mission which you have discharged in a manner which I so highly appreciate both as to the actual work of the Embassy and as to your relations to the Government to which you are so devoted.

"I am glad that it will be convenient to you to return to your post until the next July, and I remain, my dear Mr. Hill, with renewed expression of appreciation and with every good wish, "Very sincerely yours, "WILLIAM H. TAFT."

Ambassador Hill was ordered home from Berlin several weeks ago to discuss, according to an announcement by the State Department at the time, the peace controversy between the United States and Germany, which for a long time has been the subject of diplomatic interchange in which Mr. Hill has been intimately engaged. State Department officials declined today to discuss the resignation.

Resignation a Surprise.

The retiring Ambassador has been connected with the State Department for more than twelve years, entering the service as Assistant Secretary of State in 1898. He was appointed Minister to Switzerland in 1900 and two years later transferred to The Netherlands. Since April 2, 1908, he has been Ambassador to Germany.

While Ambassador Hill's resignation was a great surprise to official Washington and to the Diplomatic Corps here, it was argued today that the fact that he is to remain in his post until July 1 indicates that there was nothing urgent in the Ambassador's action.

The belief is general that Ambassador Hill's resignation is in accord with the custom of past Administrations to appoint new Ambassadors to all of the important posts. Changes have been made in the past in the case of Great Britain and Germany. In the case of Great Britain, President Taft offered the mission to Dr. C. A. T. of Harvard University, who declined.

Clarke Sank Out of Sight After Escape From Sanitarium Six Years Ago.

FLED TO RICHMOND, VA.

Now Heads Big Concern There and Court Restores $27,000 Due Him Here.

Believed by his mother and his brothers and sisters to have died after he had made his escape from "The Knolls," Dr. Parker's sanitarium at Riverdale on the Hudson, where he was committed about six years ago, Ralph A. Clarke came into Judge Blackmar's part of the Supreme Court in Brooklyn this afternoon, thoroughly sane, and the possessor of a new fortune in addition to the one that had been turned over to a commission when he was adjudged insane.

Clarke, who, under the name of Benton, has become a prominent factor in the commercial and social life of Richmond, Va., was accompanied by former Police Commissioner Bernard J. York, who acted as his counsel, and made application that the committee of his person and property should both be discharged, that he should be adjudged sane, and that the $27,000 which had been turned over to the Franklin Trust Company, the committee of his estate, should be restored to him. All three motions were granted without a moment's hesitation by Judge Blackmar as soon as Clarke had established his identity.

Mother Thought Him Dead.

Only two weeks ago Clarke's mother, Emily A. Clarke, who is now seventy-six years of age and lives at Brownville, Jefferson County, N. Y., made application to the Brooklyn Supreme Court and petitioned that she be granted a small income from her son's estate, as she was in straitened circumstances and her other children were unable to provide for her. In the affidavit accompanying her petition she set forth that she had not heard from her son Ralph since he had "wandered" away from the Riverdale asylum and that she believed he was dead. Decision on her application was reserved at the time, and had not been rendered up to the time that Clarke came into court this afternoon.
